and put to flight. The Oldambt was then towed for five hours, until within six miles of the Hook of Holland, where she was taken in charge by a Dutch tug.

Amsterdam, via London, Nov. 2. 5:35 p. m.—A German submarine placed Oldambt, which left the Hook of Holland yesterday. At 6 o'clock this morning a British destroyer appeared and recaptured the Oldambt, according to the Het Volk. The prize crew fired two bombs, with the hope of destroying their prize, but the Oldambt remained afloat.

According to the Handelsblad, the Oldambt reached the Hook of Holland, but capsized, the cargo being lost.

The Critic Shies. Theodore Dreiser, the novelist, was talking about the public's literary taste.

"The public," he said, "likes trash. Put good stuff before it and it shies like the critic at the 'Players'."

"A poet smiled affectionately on his critic, thrust a 10-cent cigar in his hand, and said: 'Let me show you the proofs of my new volume of poems.'"

"No, no," said the critic, rising hastily and grabbing up his hat. "No, no. I don't need proofs. Your word is sufficient."

"And he dashed off without finishing the two inches of beer that still remained in his glass."—Washington Star.

NOTHING SHRINKS, FADES, WRINKLES

Women save $5 in an hour by dry cleaning at home with gasoline.

Women here who have tried dry cleaning find it very easy and inexpensive to clean and freshen all the ribbons, silks, satins, laces, yokes, furs, silk shirtwaists, kid gloves and shoes, neckties, children's clothes, suits, caps, Swiss, lawn, organdie and cotton dresses, woolen garments, fancy vests, draperies, rugs, in fact, and everything that would be ruined with soap and water.

Get two ounces of solvite at any drug store and put it in two gallons of gasoline, where it instantly dissolves, then put in the goods to be cleaned, rub a little and out they come, looking as bright and fresh as new. You will find nothing fades, shrinks or wrinkles, requiring no pressing.

You can do five dollars' worth of home dry cleaning in an hour at little cost. It is so easy and you can't make a mistake. Any grocery or garage will supply the gasoline and you can obtain two ounces of solvite at the drug store which is simply a gasoline soap, then a wash boiler or large dishpan completes your dry cleaning outfit.

HUGHES ENDING HIS CAMPAIGN

Addresses Many Audiences in New York State and Is Most Hopeful.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Charles L. Hughes told audiences in central New York today, the last day but one of his campaign tour, that he had no apologies to make for his attack on the administration with reference to the maintenance of American rights, and that he proposed, if elected, to make the American flag the symbol not only of courtesy and justice, but of firmness and consistency in maintaining "our known rights on land and sea."

The nominee assailed the administration for its alleged failure to aid in the development of American trade abroad by upholding American rights; characterized as "very cruel and unwarrantable" suggestions that a vote for him meant war, and declared that in American relations with foreign nations he was opposed to a "muddle of middle."

At Bratavia, the first stop of the day, Mr. Hughes asserted that he had entire confidence in the result of the elections in Indiana and Ohio. In his speech here tonight the nominee defined political leadership. The meeting here was presided over by William Barnes, former Republican state chairman.

Mr. Hughes spoke at Onelda, Amsterdam were five-minute talks, in which the nominee briefly outlined his attitude toward the chief issues of the day. The speech at Schenectady was before an audience that had awaited his arrival for more than an hour. Many persons were turned away from the meeting, unable to gain entrance to the hall.

"Our opponents do not seem to like the idea of criticism with respect to international policy," Mr. Hughes said in his Schenectady speech. "But I beg to remind them that an American president is elected for a term of four years and under our institutions, at the conclusion of that term, by the American people and press."

"The matter is so important, the maintenance of American rights, it is highly necessary that American opinion should be expressed, and I have no apology to make in standing before you and saying that if I am elected president I propose that the American flag shall not only be a symbol of courtesy, a symbol of justice, but shall be the symbol of firmness and consistency in maintaining our known rights on land and on sea throughout the world."

"That is not a policy that leads to war. There never has been a time perhaps in our history when it was easier to keep the peace than at the present time. The past year or two of war has not been a time of great strife abroad desired our friendship, and would not by reason of any assertion of our just rights, forfeit that friendship."

Desires American Enterprise. "I desire to see American enterprise expand throughout the world. I want to see in the coming days of good commercial rivalry, representatives of American industry carrying their talents to the service of the world in foreign lands. It is idle, however, to expect success in that direction if we do not have full protection of those who represent our interests abroad.

"I am amazed to have any one suppose that we can prosper in the extension of American trade throughout the world if our flag is only an invitation to come home. Men who before election are described as having the best genius in the world and as doing a duty to humanity, should not be in danger, after election, of being called servants of their own private interests who take their lives in their own hands for their personal ends."

MCCORT TO REMAIN AT PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, Nov. 2.—Word reached here from Rome today that the Right Rev. John J. McCort, who some months ago was appointed bishop of Los Angeles, was to remain in his present office as auxiliary bishop of Philadelphia.

Catholics in this city were greatly surprised and many, especially the parishioners of the Church of Our Mother of Sorrows, of which he is rector, were deeply grieved when they first heard that Bishop McCort was to leave this city for a see in Los Angeles.

It is known that Archbishop Prendergast lost no time in appealing to the authorities in Rome to rescind the transfer of his auxiliary bishop to the far western diocese. The archbishop is now past 70 years old, and Bishop McCort is his right-hand man, on whom he depends largely for advice and assistance in administering the affairs of the archdiocese of Philadelphia, one of the largest and most important in the United States.

HUGHES CONTINUES BETTING FAVORITE

New York, Nov. 2.—Betting in Wall street in the presidential race took a turn in favor of Hughes today. Although approximately $25,000 was wagered at odds ranging from 10 to 7 to 10 to 6 in favor of Hughes, one wager of $1000 against $600 was reported. In the late afternoon, however, Hughes was quoted at 10 to 8 favorite, with Wilson supporters asking 10 to 7. One bet of $1000 to $750 was made late in the day and one of $10,000 to $7000 on Hughes.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 2.—Seventy-five hundred dollars, telegraphed from New York by a Wall street firm to one of the Seattle banks to be placed on Hughes at even money was covered at noon today by Steve Bailey, a retired capitalist of Seattle. Bailey has wagered about $20,000 on Wilson in the past ten days.

PROGRESSIVE STAND FOR WILSON AS PRESIDENT

After an conference yesterday afternoon with Hugh T. Halbert, former Progressive presidential elector from Minnesota, Progressive leaders in Utah issued a statement in which they urged the members of the Progressive party in the state to do everything in their power for the election of Woodrow Wilson and the entire fusion ticket.

The statement was signed by T. A. Moon, Progressive national committeeman from Utah; Wesley K. Walton, chairman of the state central committee; N. A. Robertson, secretary of the state central committee, and W. D. Livingston, chairman of the state executive committee.

In the statement the history of the party in the nation and its activities in the state are briefly set forth, with the declaration that Progressives from principle would not follow any particular leader unless he squares himself with their principles.

Fusion Still Favored. The fusion in Utah of two years ago was commended and it was set forth that the Progressives now wish to complete the object for which they have been contending by supporting President Wilson and the entire Progressive ticket in Utah.

Fear is expressed that if Charles E. Hughes is elected under present conditions the managers of the Republican party will construe the result as warranting the continuance of stand-pat reactionary Republican policies.

"We believe," the statement says, "that there are enough voters in Utah who believe in Progressive principles to carry the state for Wilson and the fusion ticket, and these voters hold the balance of power."

"We believe that the splendid record of Progressive legislation secured during the past four years under the leadership of Woodrow Wilson is convincing proof that he is much more progressive than Charles E. Hughes and we are fearful that a change in the national administration at this time would undo much of the good progressive legislation heretofore enacted, and many of these measures might be repealed."

"Measures like the corrupt practices act now pending in the senate and other unfinished progressive legislation would be jeopardized by a swapping of horses in midstream."

"We, the trustees of the Progressive party in the state of Utah, do, therefore, urge all Progressives believing in the principles of our party to do everything in their power from now until election day for the election of Woodrow Wilson and our fusion ticket."

ITALIANS GAIN STRONG POSITION

Win to the East of Gorizia in a Battle of Great Fury—Penetrate Austrian Points.

Rome, Nov. 2.—Striking east from Gorizia, and pulverizing the powerful Austrian defense works on the Carso with a hurricane of shells, the Italian army of General Cadorna has resumed its advance against Trieste.

As a result of the first day's action, the Italians have not only carried a strong system of defenses on the heights east of Gorizia and another powerful line on the Carso east of Vailone, but have taken 4731 prisoners, six cannon, many machine guns and vast quantities of war material.

The new offensive was launched yesterday. The first official word of its results to reach Rome was given out today in a war office statement.

This statement declares that the Austrian lines were penetrated at several points, notably south of the Capaciella-Castagnavizza road, where the Italian gains were completely held, despite the most violent counterattacks.

Strong Positions Won. On the Carso plateau the Italians, at points, advanced almost a mile. East of Segita two-thirds of a mile of strong positions were won.

The advance was made across treacherous ground, soaked by the recent rains. General Cadorna struck

As a result of the fighting in the Gorizia region the Italian soldiers occupy the eastern slopes of Tivoli and San Marco, as well as the heights east of Sober.

The brunt of the Carso fighting was borne by the famous Eleventh army corps. Here the woods were stormed, and Kribuch and hill No. 375 carried. This latter height dominates Mont Podinaka, a strong Austrian position.
